M'KINLEY'S DEAL WITH CARNEGIE'S MANAGERS.

The Very Men Who Were Shown to Have Defrauded the Government.

Were in the Conspiracy to Supply Defective Armor Plate to the Navy

Now Engaged in Freightin Homestead Steel Workers as Voting Cattle to Canton.

NOT THEIR FIRST DICKER, EITHER.

John McLuckie Tells How a McKinley Concession to the Carnegie Company Resulted in the Homestead Riots.

John McLuckie, of Homestead, Pa., whose connection with the great strike of steel workers in 1892 made him famous, and who for the last few years has been engaged in compiling statistics and other valuable information in connection with the armor plate frauds, was in town yesterday to confer with the managers of the Democratic national campaign relative to labor matters. He brought with him cheerful tidings from northern and western New York and Massachusetts, where he has been working among the labor organizations.

"Labor is a unit for Bryan and Sewall in Massachusetts and New York," said Mr.
McLuckie. "With proper management the Bay State can, without question, be carried for the Democratic ticket. I have been in every hole and corner of the State, and the sentiment of the people, especially the working classes, is against the Hanna-Mc-Kinley coalition. Have no fear of New York. The laboring men are thoroughly organized and will carry the State by a larger majority than the Republicans are now claiming.

"But what I am most interested in just now is the deal that Major McKinley has just made with the men who have been proved guilty of fraud and treason against their country in connection with the armor plate conspiracy. Two special trains have within the last week been run to Canton carrying steelworkers from Homestead, the men the McKinley tariff bill helped to crush. These trains were in charge of Schuch, Carey and the other superintendents for the Carnegie Company, the very persons who, it was shown before the Congressional investigation committee, were guilty of a conspiracy to defraud the United States Government by furnishing defective armor plate. I want the public to know that these are the same men, backed as they are by the Carnegie Company, which was directly benefited by a financial way by this crime against the country and humanity, that are now engaged in freightin to Canton what they believe to be voting cattle.

"Let me give you a bit of history," continued Mr. McLuckie. "In 1889 the steel workers at Homestead signed a three years' scale of wages based on the four by four inch billet. This was one of the forty-one products of the Homestead mill. The Mc-Kinley bill increased the tariff on twenty of these products. The balance remained as they were on the former tariff list. But at the solicitation of the Carnegie Company the tariff was changed on this article—the four by four inch billet—from a specific to an ad valorem duty, making a reduction on that article alone of one and a half to one-half cent per pound. This was done at the request of the Carnegie Company, and against the protests of the employees of the firm.

"Now our wages were readjusted every quarter on the basis of the market price of the four by four inch billet, as quoted in the Pittsburgh Daily Times and Dispatch, from day to day. The effect of this change in the tariff on this product of the mill resulted in the price of the billet selling for $34 per ton to $24 per ton and as the scale of wages was a sliding scale, our wages were reduced at the same ratio. This is one instance of what Mc-Kinley has done for labor at Homestead.

"In 1892 I was quently to speak in up to the Homestead truth, I was compellquently to the effect I plain that it was in trying to adjust the labor troubles that caused the misfortu-

Homestead in 1892.
Mr. McKimley's company should have for the people whom they are trying to during his campaign four years ago, these same men, through a second party, tried to buy me off. The Republican National Committee at that time wanted to suppress the effect of the McKinley tariff upon labor, and the truths that were being disseminated by the steel workers were greatly interfering with their canvases.

Chris Magee thought it advisable to have the Homestead trouble adjusted, fearing the result on the election. He and others conferred with the National Committee, and the result was that an attempt was made to have Carnegie and Frick make some concessions to the men, looking toward a final settlement.

"When it was discovered that an agreement could not be reached, the National Committee, through John E. Millholland, chairman of the Industrial Committee of the campaign, had O'Donnell, my partner in the trouble at Homestead, brought to New York. This was during the time of O'Donnell's so-called 'mysterious disappearance.' When he returned to Homestead he knew better than to approach me himself, so he sought the aid of Hugh F.
Dempsey, ex-District Attorney of Workman of District Assembly No. 3, K. of L. Dempsey came to me and asked me for a private interview. We went to the corner of the Palace Hotel, then kept by Patrick Quinn, and about the first words Dempsey said to me was to make figures.

"He said the Republican National Committee would give me any sum that I named. I had to sign a statement in a number of places where I had made speeches.
I asked him to make out a list of the things I wanted to deny, but he refused to do so, saying that I might use the list afterward in public and to their disadvantage.

"I asked him why the Republican National Committee did not deny the assertion, which he said they were unanswerable, that I had told the truth about the McKinley bill and its effect on labor.

"McKinley was responsible for this deal, inasmuch as the bill which he fathered repealed the tariff on steel in its trouble originally. Now he is in another deal with Carnegie and his managers to secure the delivery of the steel workers—the men he sought to crush and destroy."

PARKER FAVORS CHECKS.
Opposed to Commissioner Grant's Proposal for a Single Police Commissioner.

Police Commissioner Frederick Dent Grant's proposal for a single head to the Police Department is endorsed by Commissioner Avery D. Andrews, but does not meet with the favor of Commissioner Andrews. D. Parker, President Theodore Roosevelt's views are not stated, but are supposed to agree with those of Messrs.
Grant and Andrews. Mr. Parker said yesterday:

"I do not believe a single commissioner will administer this department for a long time, unless some of the present powers are changed. The question is one that has been again and again thrashed out. It is a question of the absolute necessity and an administration of checks.
Commissioner Grant is reported as saying no four men can agree as a Board on anything. I think he would revise that statement on reflection. The present Board has agreed on practically everything except the promotion of a few men, and the Board cannot command the requisite votes. Hence, and hence alone, these plaintive moans.

"Mr. Andrews is reported as saying he did not at first favor a single commissioner, but does now. He has changed his opinion on this subject. He has changed his opinion as to the propriety of giving to the Chief of Police the power of assignment of his force. In the Spring of 1895 he was the proposer of a Board of Police, in advance of the Bi-Partisan bill which made it law; but in the Spring of 1896 he changed his mind and proposed a single commissioner. The Legislature supporting a bill denouncing the very measure he had at first advocated, and advocating a return to the Board of Police, he had earlier declared the Chief alone should possess."

"GOLD AND SILVER OPTIONS."
"There is More Than One Morgan in Wall Street."

Mr. F. D. Morgan, of 64 Wall street, whom we interviewed last week, is undoubtedly the man of the hour. He is not like Abraham White, who has a million dollars in stamps.
Mr. Morgan has his fortune already in hand, and he is going to use it to good purpose. The Grand Preparations Are Being Made for a Mag- nificent Ratification.

Bryan, Sewall, Thatcher, Daniels, White, Porter and Others Will Speak.

Five Different Meetings Will Be in Full Blast at One Time in the Enemy's Country.

SPEECHES IN ENGLISH AND GERMAN.

The Committee in Charge of the Demonstration Determined That the Braves Shall Give the Nominees a Glorious Welcome.

Tammany Hall is preparing to send her first guns into the camp of the enemy and ratify her political selections as they have never been ratified before. The first of what is to be a series of broadsides from the staunchest wing of the Democratic party is to be presented to New York on Tuesday, September 29.

At a meeting of the Committee on Ratification, held at Tammany Hall yesterday afternoon, it was decided that all the energy of the Braves should be put forth to give such a welcome to the nominees as was never given before.

Ex-Street Cleaning Commissioner Brennan, presiding as chairman of the committee, told the representatives from the thirty-five districts, that it was the intention of Tammany to give both the national and the State ticket an insight into how they stood in New York City.

Ever since the nominations at Chicago, up to the time the nominations were made at Buffalo, the Ratification Committee has been preparing its list of orators that will be presented to the public on ratification night. William Jennings Bryan, Arthur M.
Sewall, United States Senator John W.
Daniels, chairman of the National Democratic Convention at Chicago, Stephen M.
White, of California; Amos J. Cummings, John Boyd Thatcher, of Albany; Wilbur F.
Porter, of Watertown, the nominees for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, together with Chairman Rockwell, of Chemung, have agreed to be present and talk for the Democracy and the coming election.
It is expected that Governor Stone, of Missouri, and J. C. Sibley will be on hand.

There will be at least five speakers talking at one time in different parts of the territory in and around Tammany Hall. In the main assembly room and one of the basement halls there will be two English speakers, and in the basement a German delegation will be addressed. On the steps of the building two open-air meetings will be held, and there will be overflow in Union square and the Academy of Music.

Delegations from the different districts will arrive at the hall from 7 to 7:30 o'clock in the evening, and a thousand transparencies will be floating through the streets after dark. Brass bands will be scattered over the ground.

Congressman Amos J. Cummings was present at the meeting and was vigorous in his statements that Tammany was about to set forth her red letter day in the matter of ratification.

The Ratification Committee will meet every day this week, and arrange for its vice-presidents, which will include the best and strongest Democrats in the party.

ALIENAGE DEBARNS AN HEIR.

Court Throws Out a Claim of an English Grandson of an American.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Justice Nash this morning handed down his decision in the contest over the estate of James Wadsworth, in which he decided adversely to the claims of the English grandson of the testator, Charles James Murray. James Wadsworth died in 1845, in Genesee, Livingston County, leaving an estate of several millions.

A portion of his estate, amounting to $900,000, was left in trust to his grandson, Martin Brimmer, of Boston, during his lifetime. Martin Brimmer died a few months ago, and the question arose as to the disposition of this $900,000 held in trust. Martin Brimmer left no children, and the following claims were put in by heirs:

"One-third to Austin and Herbert Wadsworth, children of William Wadsworth, a son of the testator; one-third to the children of the late General James S. Wadsworth, including Congressman James W. Wadsworth, and one-third to Charles Murray, an English son of a deceased daughter of the testator.

The claims of the Englishman were opposed by his American cousins, on the ground that Murray could not inherit his mother's interest on account of alienage.
The result is that the $900,000 which was to have gone to Murray will be divided equally among the other heirs.

BANK RUN CAUSED BY A DEATH

Troy National Fails Because of an Accident at Its Doors.

Troy, N. Y., Sept. 19.—The National Bank of Troy, formerly the First National Bank of this city, closed its doors this morning, because of a run on the bank, and it is now in charge of United States Bank Examiner Graham.

The bank's officers state that it will be able to pay depositors in full, and from seventy-five to ninety cents on the dollar to stockholders. The capital is $200,000. The bank succeeded the First National Bank in 1883, the latter having been organized in 1863.

The run on the bank began several days ago, when a prominent citizen fell dead near the bank's doors, a rumor being then circulated that the crowd that assembled was making a run on the bank and precipitating an actual run.

Burglary in Broad Daylight.

The police of Richmond Hill, L. I., were notified yesterday of a robbery that occurred in daylight Friday at the home of Augustus Wellers, at Richmond Hill Terrace. Wellers was in the city on business and his wife went to do some errands.
She was gone but a short time, and when she returned discovered that $500 worth of silverware, jewelry and clothing had been stolen. The thief got into the house by forcing open a cellar window. Neighbors saw that a colored man was seen about the Wellers house, and he is suspected of having committed the theft.

Central Park's Latest Acquisition.

A young South American bittern, which came north in the early summer for its vacation, or lost from its friends yesterday, fell exhausted in the rear yard of No. 411 West Twenty-third street.
August and Willie Schumann, two boys who live there, gave chase and succeeded in catching the bird. It fought desperately with its sharp claws and bill, and uttered a sound which resembled closely that made by an alarm clock going off inside a box. Then the boys took it to the Central Park Menagerie and turned it over to Director Smith. It was placed in the plegion house, where it immediately assumed its habitual attitude of quiet
